Always Remember . . . . . .

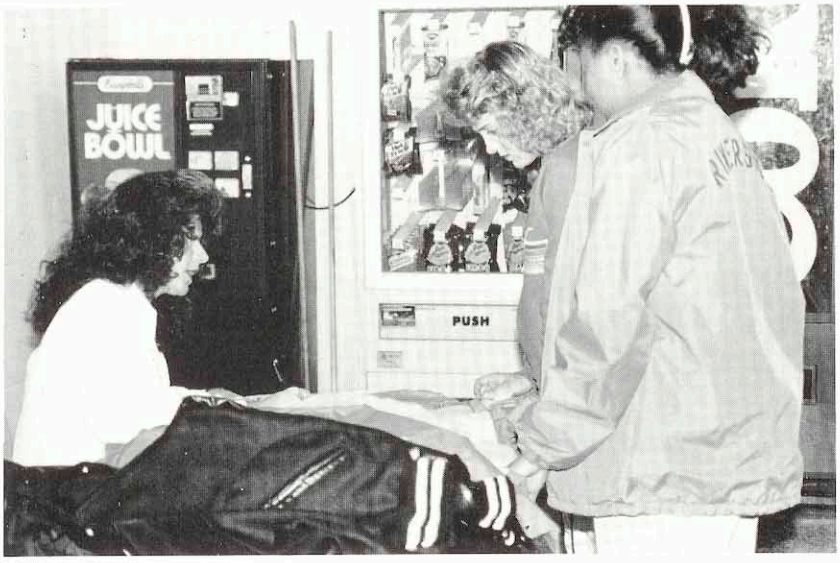

The year of 1989-90 was a memorable one for all of us.Whether it was making the choice about class rings, dressing up as a hillbilly for Homecoming week, or just plain goofing off, many things will forever be reflected in some way, in all our minds.

. . . . . Never Forget.

It all began at 7:45 August 18, 1989, a year packed full of memories. That moment when you first received your driver's license, first made that friendship that lasted a lifetime. And then there is the decision of what color of school jacket to choose, BLUE or GOLD?

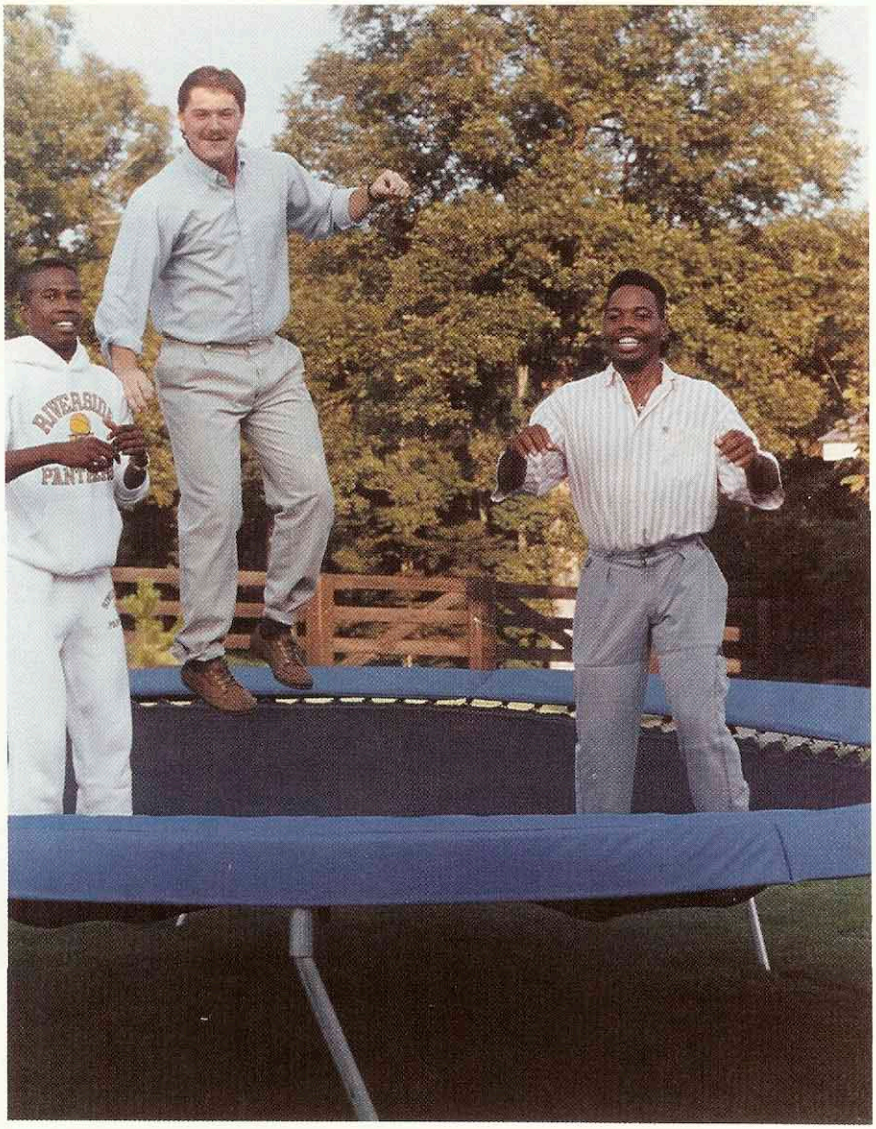

The Best Of Times

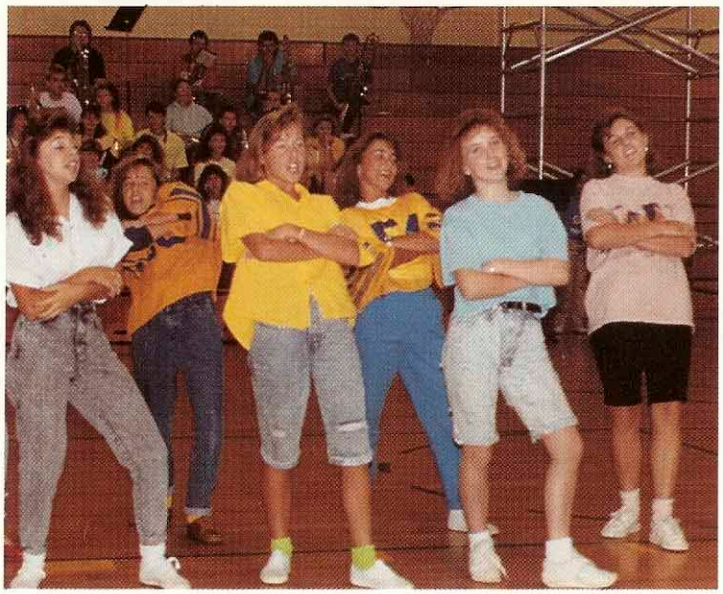

Charity Pearcy: "Look out Rockettes!"

Jenny Boaz: "What's so funny?"

Kevin McKenzie: "You've got to know how to play it!"

Ruth Ward: "You want to beat the PANTHERS? I don't think so!"

What are "The Best of Times"? Actually, this can mean a variety of things to different people. To some it can be going to a ball game with a friend or showing your spirit at a pep rally, but to others it can mean sitting in classrooms and cutting up with a couple of friends. But, let's take a look at what some students feel are their best of times at Riverside ... "I guess one of my best of times," reports junior Tami Hardin, "is during my freshman year at our Lexington pep rally. Everyone was so roused up."

"The excitement of homecoming," says junior Allison Carrington expressing her best of times at Riverside.

No matter what, you'll always find someone at Riverside with his or her own "Best of Times".

All Of The Time

There is something going on all of the time at Riverside. If one thing isn't happening, there will always be something else; whether it be practicing for a band contest, getting ready for a pep rally, or decorating for the prom.

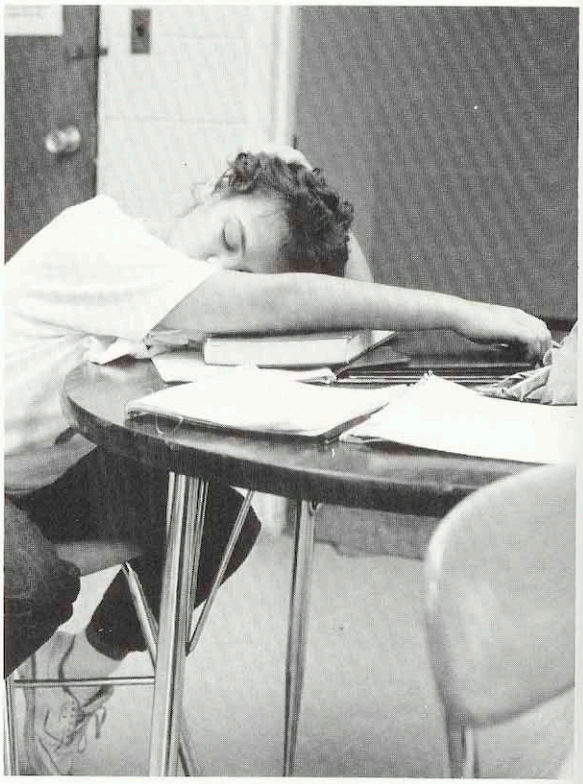

There will hardly ever be a time that you'll find a Panther not busy doing something — studying for a test, working on a research paper, or . . . sleeping?!? Well, occasionally you will find someone sleeping on the job, but that's right after doing a hard day's work.

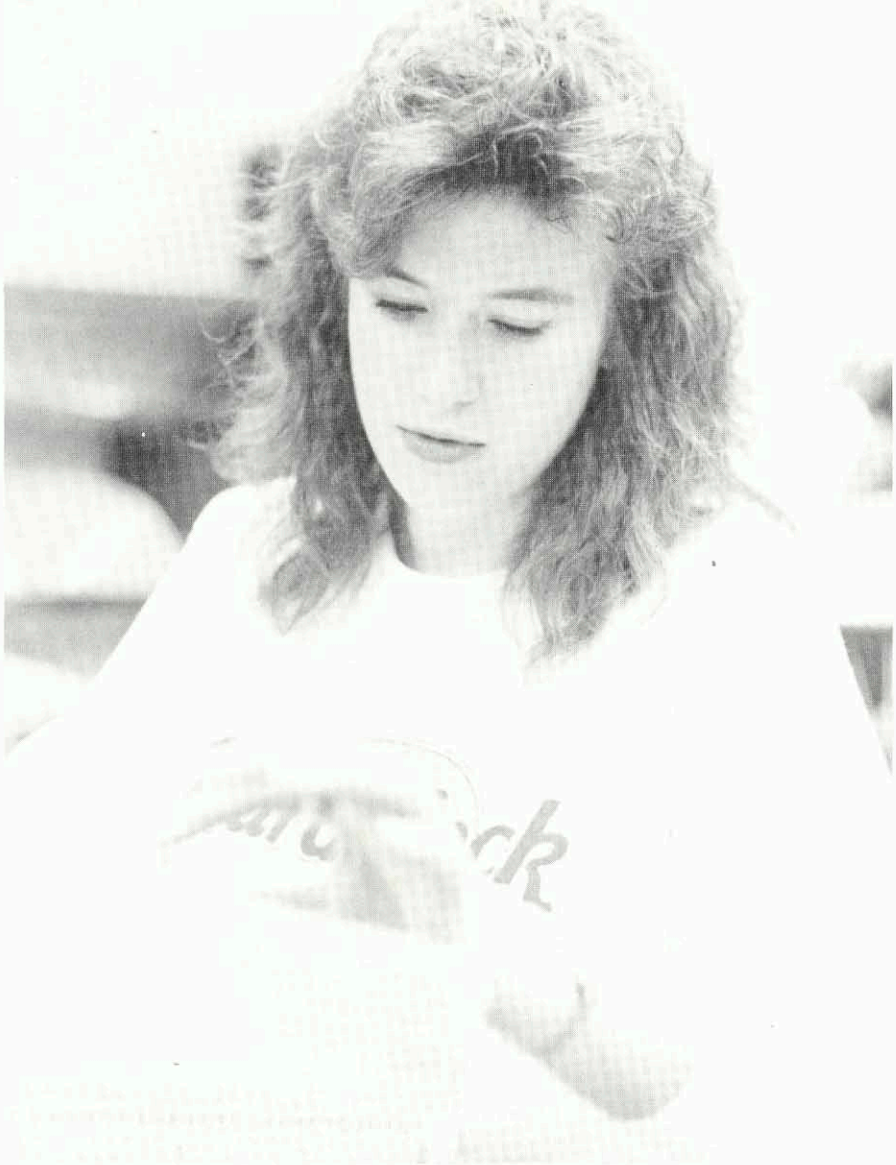

Shelley Barber: "Could I PLEASE get to my locker?"

Lisa Chibbaro: "Who do you think you are?"

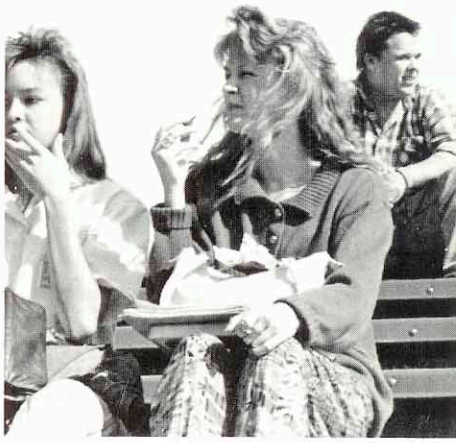

Crystal Campbell: "I must be dreaming!"

Tara Lackey: "This is beginning to get old!"

Kristie Parnell: "What is that smell?"

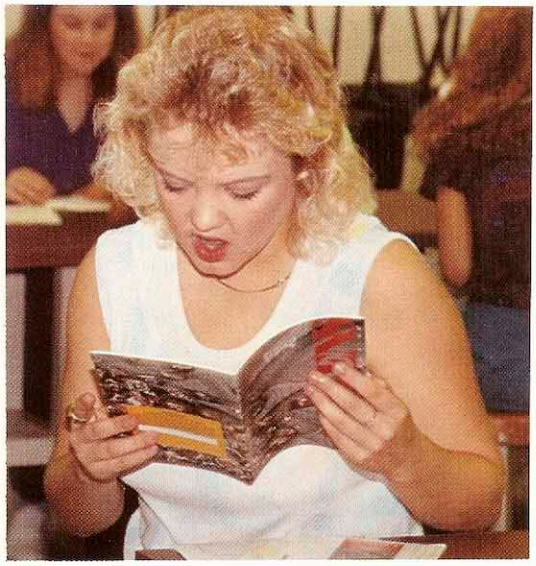

Jana Wallace: "Me gusta what?!"

Jennifer Whitsitt: "It's been a long day!"

A Time To Remember

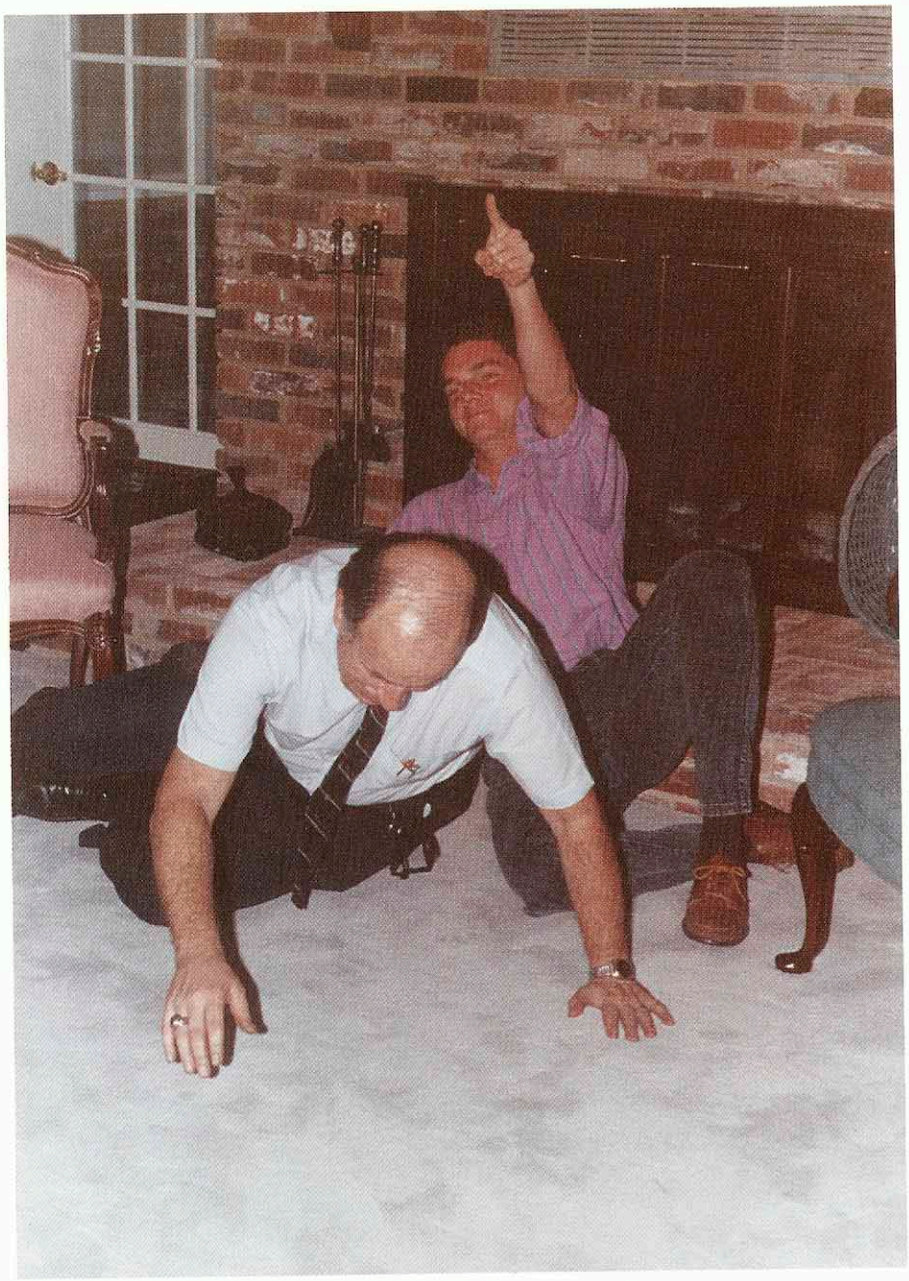

Lynn Lancaster: "I can't believe this costs this much!"

Marilyn Russell: "Heart to Heart or Golden Twist!?"

Joe Taylor: "By the power of Brother Joe, you are healed!"

Alan Evans: "What are you doing! Get up!"

No matter who you are you will always remember your high school years and that is what high school is — a time to remember. Whether it was making your first A on a geometry test, being chosen homecoming queen, or making the winning touchdown, there will always be something special you'll remember from high school.

You're told, "Your high school years are the best years of your life," and everyone says, "Oh sure, I bet." If you get down to it, though, after being out of school for 20 years, you'll always remember that special something.

Senior Tina Monroe says she'll always remember having fun being a cheerleader, going to the prom, and being honored as homecoming queen.

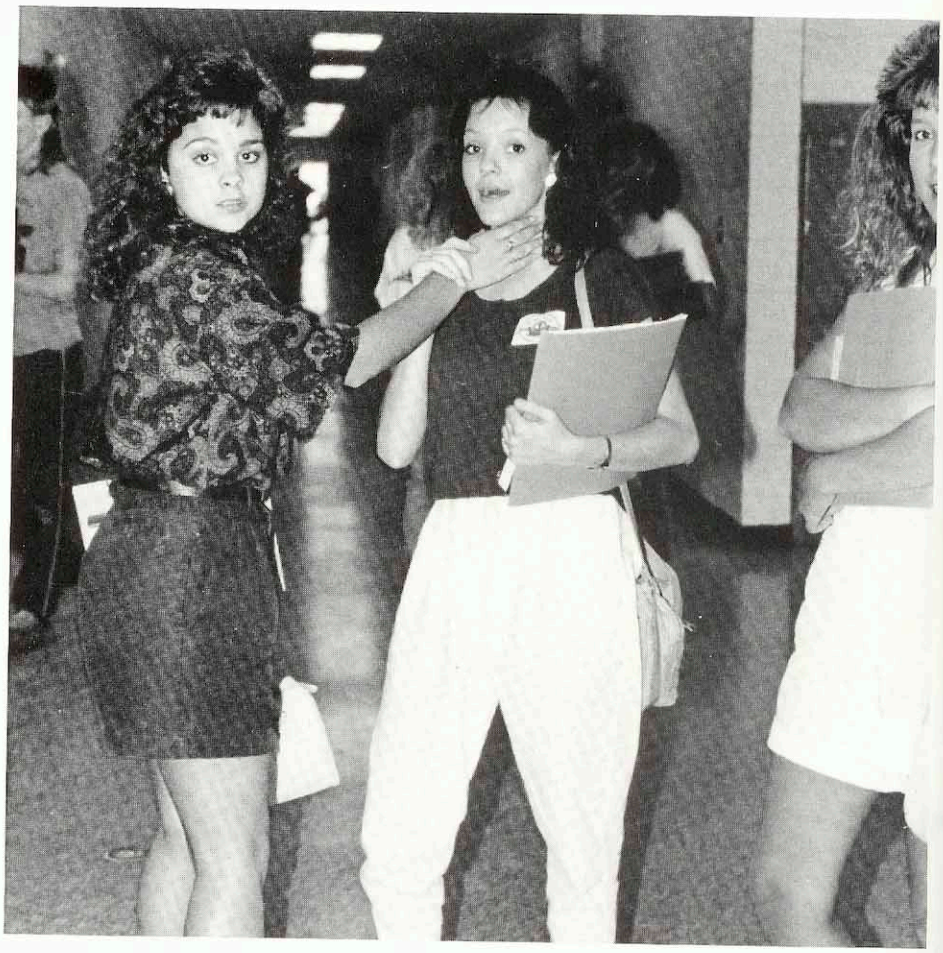

Junior Kristie White feels her time to remember will be skipping class and trying not to get caught by Coach Barrett.

Sophomore Jeremy Goff thinks he will always remember playing in the football games and hanging out with his friends.

Like I said, you'll always remember that special something. Whether it be getting homecoming queen, cutting class, or playing in football games, the choices are endless.

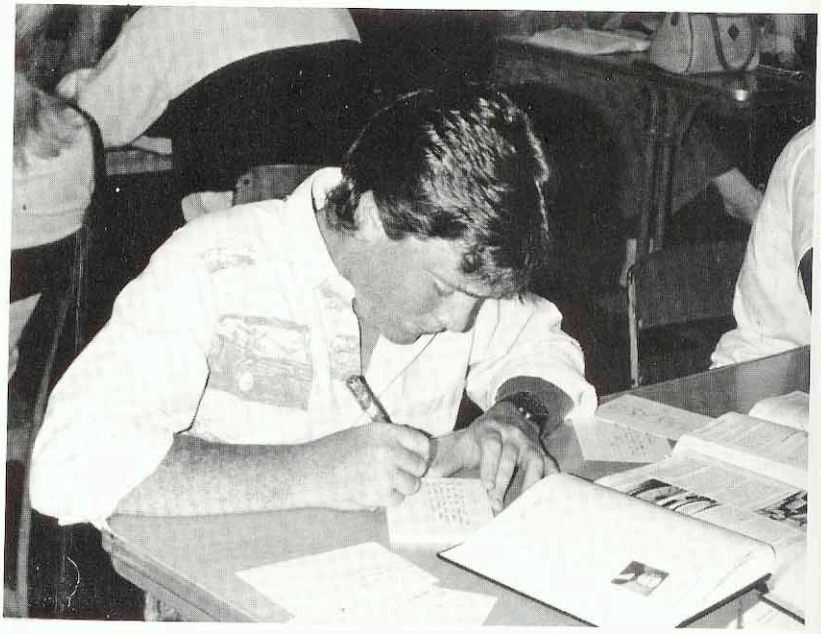

Amy Strawn: "I can't believe I spent the night at school!"

Standing The Test Of Time

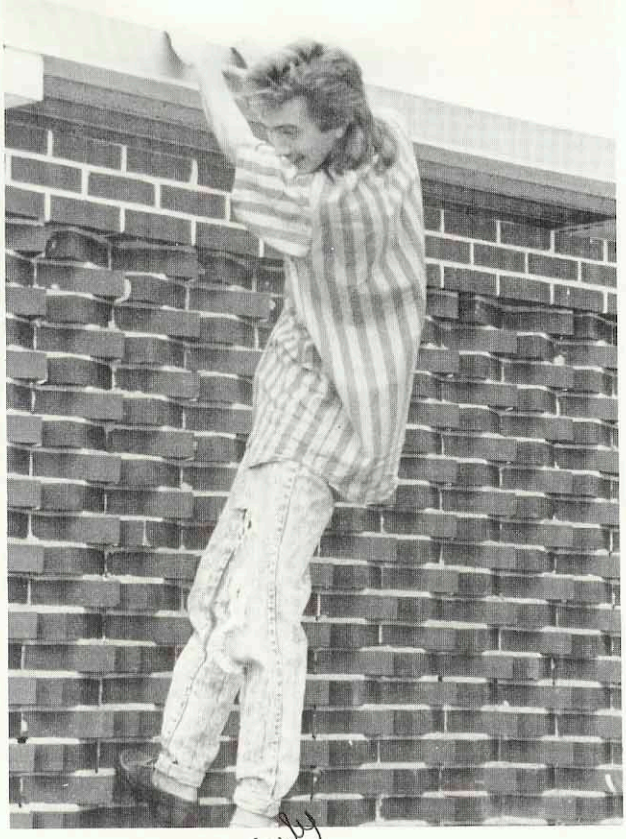

Shannon White: "I'm gonna kill you!!"

When we think of Standing the Test of Time, friendships and memories come to mind. They will always be there for us whenever we need them. Since day one of the Seniors' 9th grade year, they started friendships that have stood the test of time over the past 4 years. Through thick and thin they stood by each other's side and gave their support. After high school their memories of all the good and bad times will linger in their minds. They will always be there and no one can take them away. The year 1990 will definitely stand the test of time.

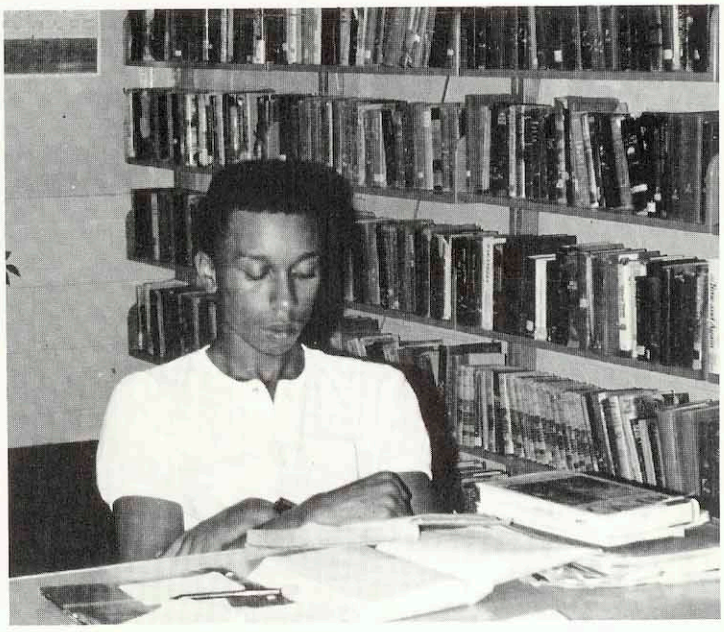

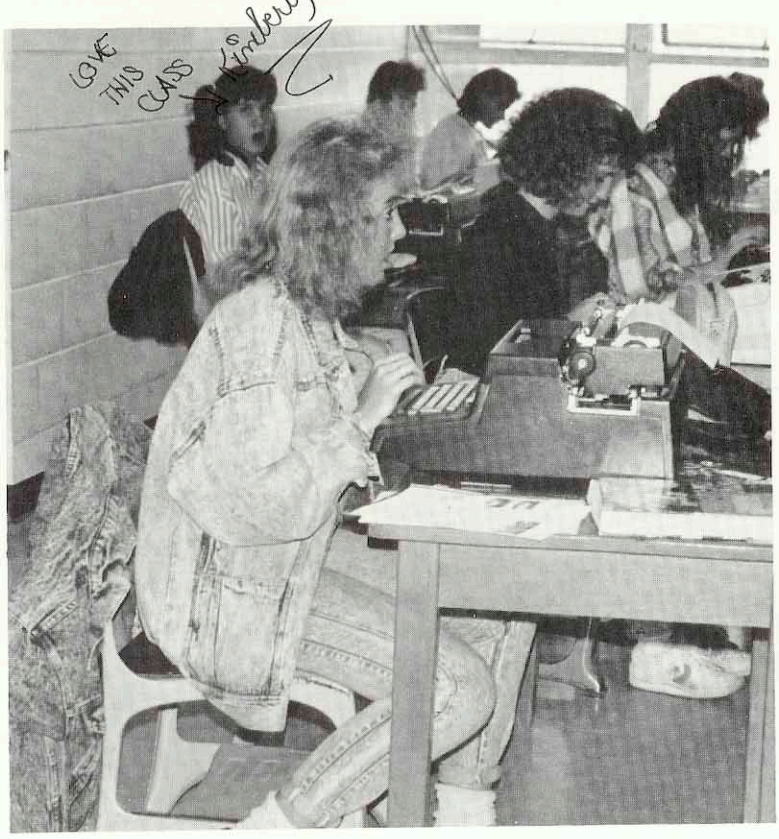

Keith Hicks: "These notecards are so boring!"

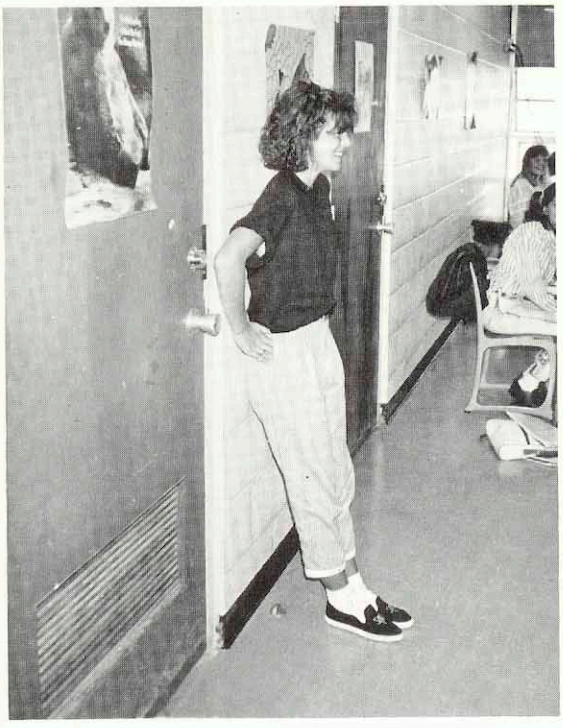

Jeremy Moody: "If Barrett don't see me, I can make it!"

Lacy Smith: "Research makes me sleep."

April Townsend: "I hate this ancient machine!"

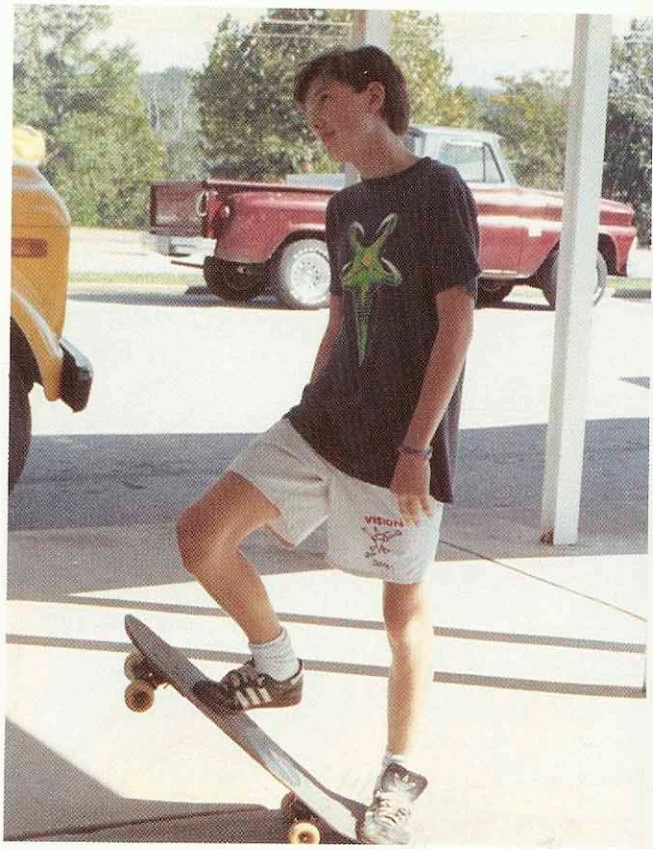

Leslie Lunsford: "I'm fixin' to!"

Play Time

John Jachimiak: "This is how it's done!"

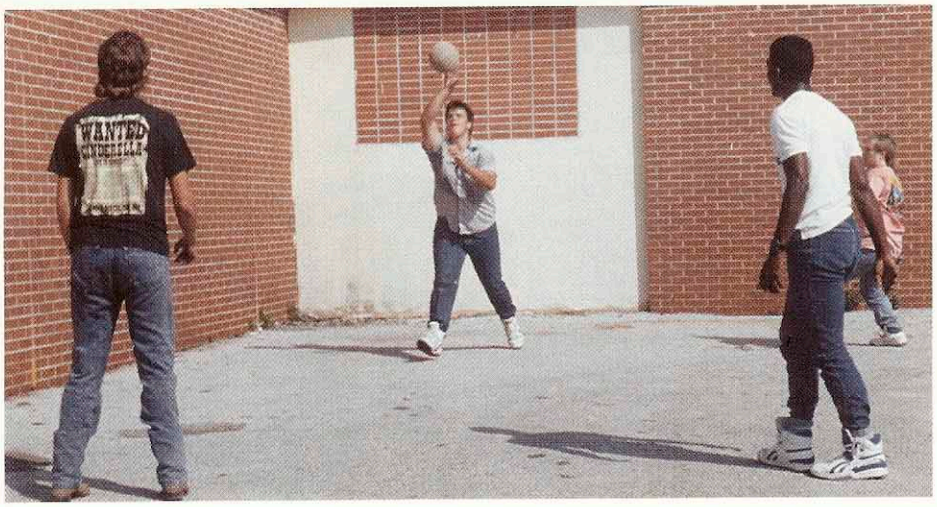

Ritchie Brawley: "Take this, you old fly!"

RHS Band: "Playing their hearts out."

Psyanita Brasher: "Boy! What a fix I'm in!"

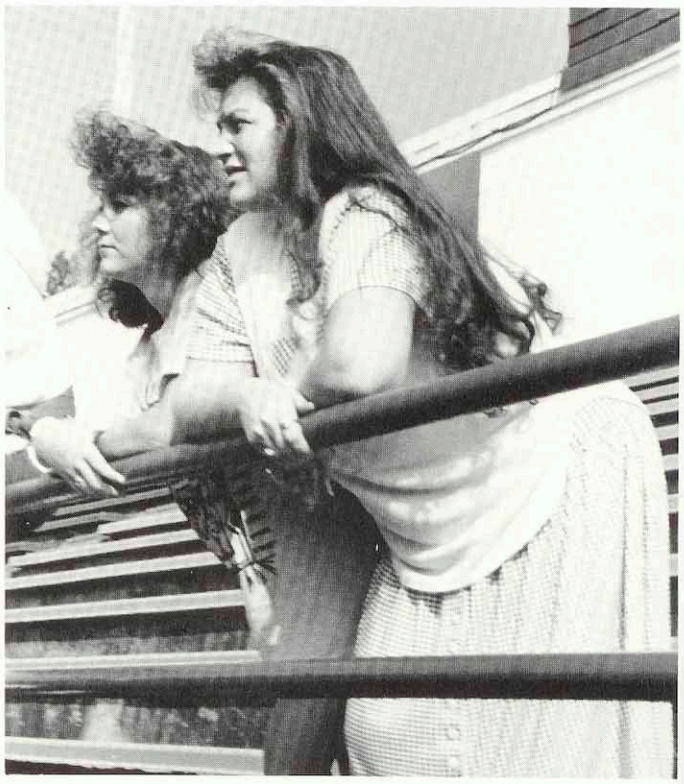

Jeff Bibbs: "You better look out!"

When we say "play time" at Riverside, we don't mean recess. This is a time when a person doesn't like to think about all the burdens in life. Someone said at one time that there should be "all work and no play," but that's not true here at Riverside. We do work, but we also find time to play, too. After all, everyone likes to have fun!

Time Out

"Time Out" — it's something everyone needs. After a full day of taking notes and worrying over a big test, a person needs time to collect his or her thoughts. It's nice to just relax and think about the good things in life. What are some of the things people like to do when they don't have a care in the world? Some like to occupy themselves by curling up with a favorite book, while others just like to daydream to let the time pass. Here are some other things Riverside students like to do during their "Time Out." "If I don't have anything to do, I like to just sit in my room and listen to music," says junior Stacey Tillman.

"I like to talk on the phone and spend time with my friends," replies freshman Lorrie Tanner. "I like to go horseback riding," says junior Stephanie Davis on what she likes doing when she has "Time Out."

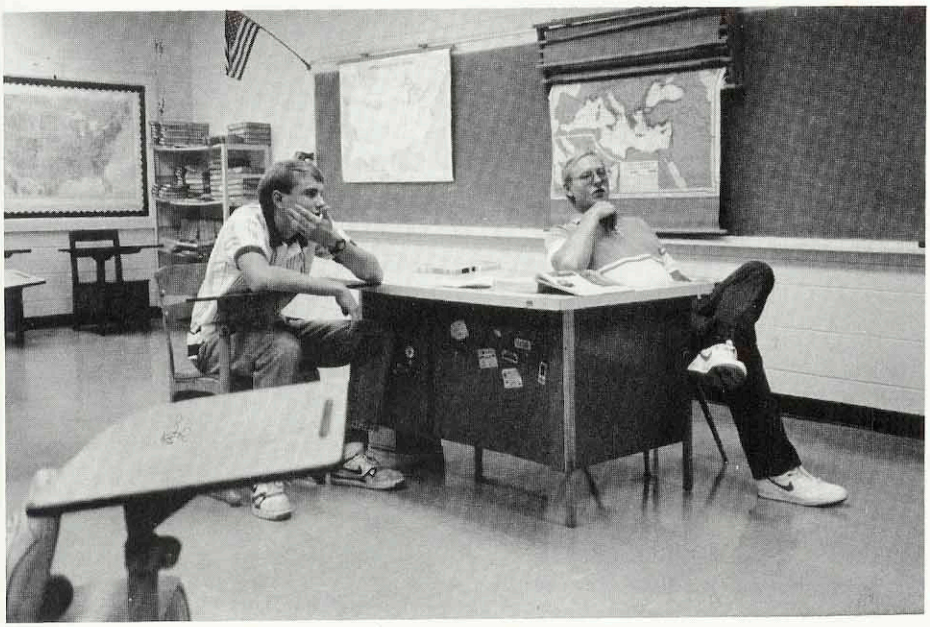

Annette Mills: "I wish I had my sunglasses!"

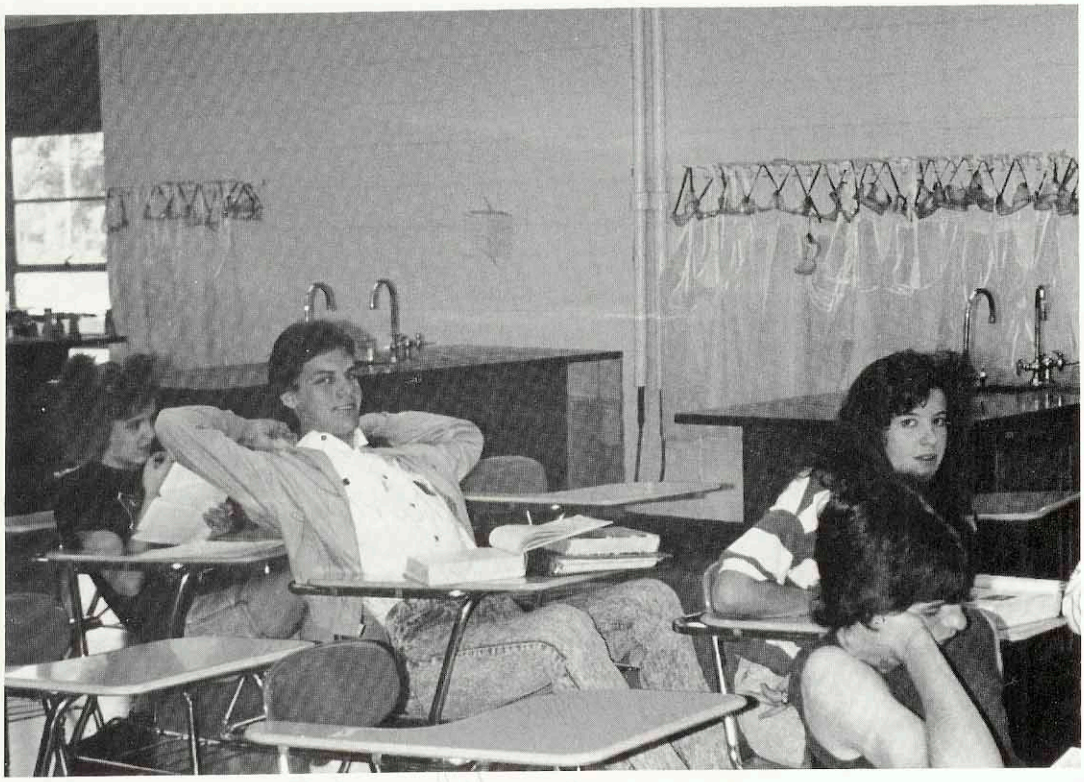

Ginger Kirk: "I can't believe we have to do this!!"

Allison Carrington: "I hope I have enough time to get to chemistry class — oops — wrong book!"

Michael Larkins: "Thinking the situation over."

Chris Hayes: "Demonstrating the physics of relaxation."

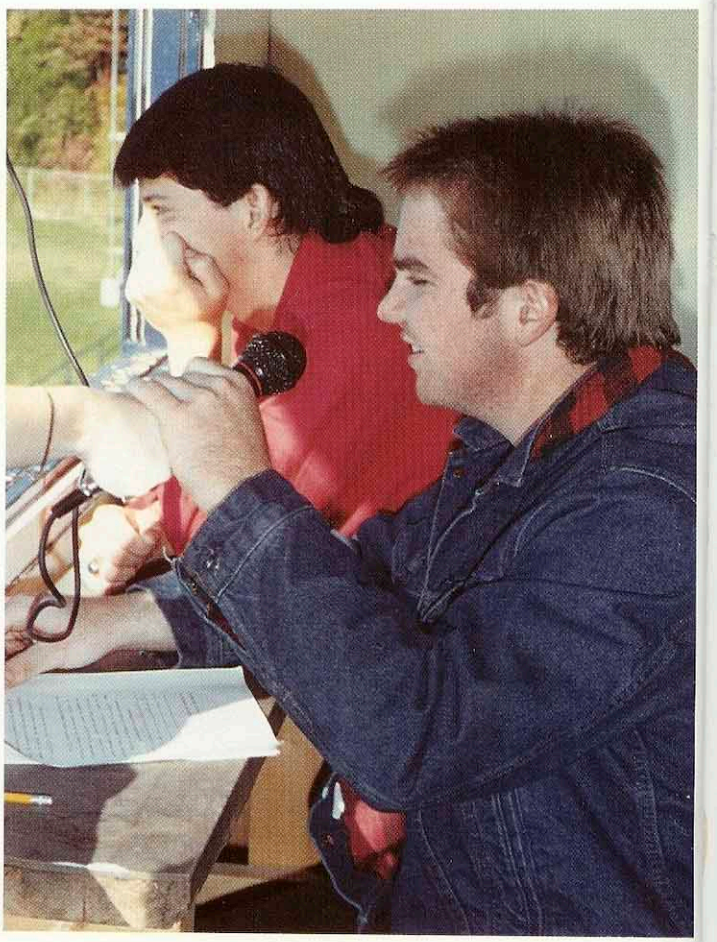

Chad Pratt: "Another boring day in Coach Barrett's room."

Nothin' But A Good Time

Mrs. Roberts: "Move over! I don't want to be in the picture!"

Everyone loves to have a good time, and that's what Riverside is all about. Even though we have research papers due, tests to study for, and homework to do, we still find a way to have fun. Here are some of the things students at Riverside like to do.

"I love to dance," says Wildman Bawcum.

"I enjoy being with my friends and making the most of my senior year," states Tara Lackey.

"I like riding through town in a fast car," says Melissa Lee.

"I like playing basketball, and when I'm at my best I have a good time," says Psyanita Brasher.

As you can see, everyone likes to have "nothin' but a good time" in his own way.

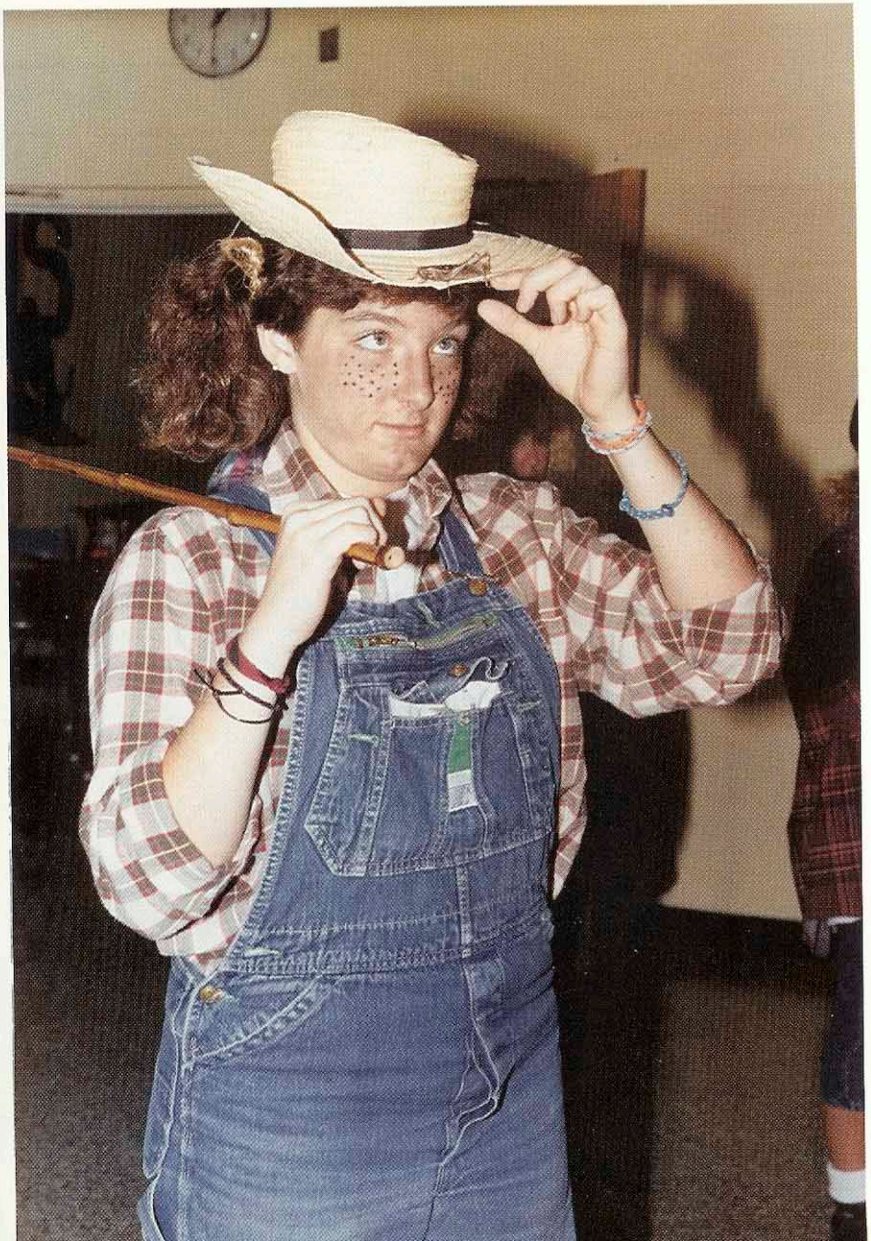

J.P. Inman and Gregory Griggs: "What are they doing down there?"

Holly Norville: "Are you sure these are the right words?"

Paula Turnbo: "Get it, Shellie!"

Janie Jones: "You can run, but you can't hide!"

S.A.D.D. — Students Against Driving Drunk is not just any club — it's a family of young adults working together to save lives.

The problems of driving drunk have been seen by all of the students at Riverside. As a result, S.A.D.D. is by far the largest club on campus. All members and their parents must sign a contract — a Contract for LIFE. It is an agreement that if any member is caught in a situation where either they or a friend has been drinking they will call their parents for a safe ride home.

We students have come a long way, but there is still a long road ahead. As long as we can learn to talk, listen, and learn from one another the battle with drugs will be won. Hopefully, by our generation.

Angie Hainley attended the Governor's School for the Sciences at UT Knoxville. Her classes consisted of calculus, technical writing, computing, and chemistry. Evening lectures, field trips, and free time were also a part of the four-week stay.

Betsy Slaton attended the Governor's School for the Arts at MTSU. She performed with the 75-member choir at the Tennessee Performing Arts Center in Nashville. In addition to participating in weekly concerts, Betsy studied music theory and literature of music.

Jamie Wallace attended the Governor's School for Tennessee Studies at ETSU. Through lectures, field trips, and various other assignments, he learned about Tennessee's rich past.

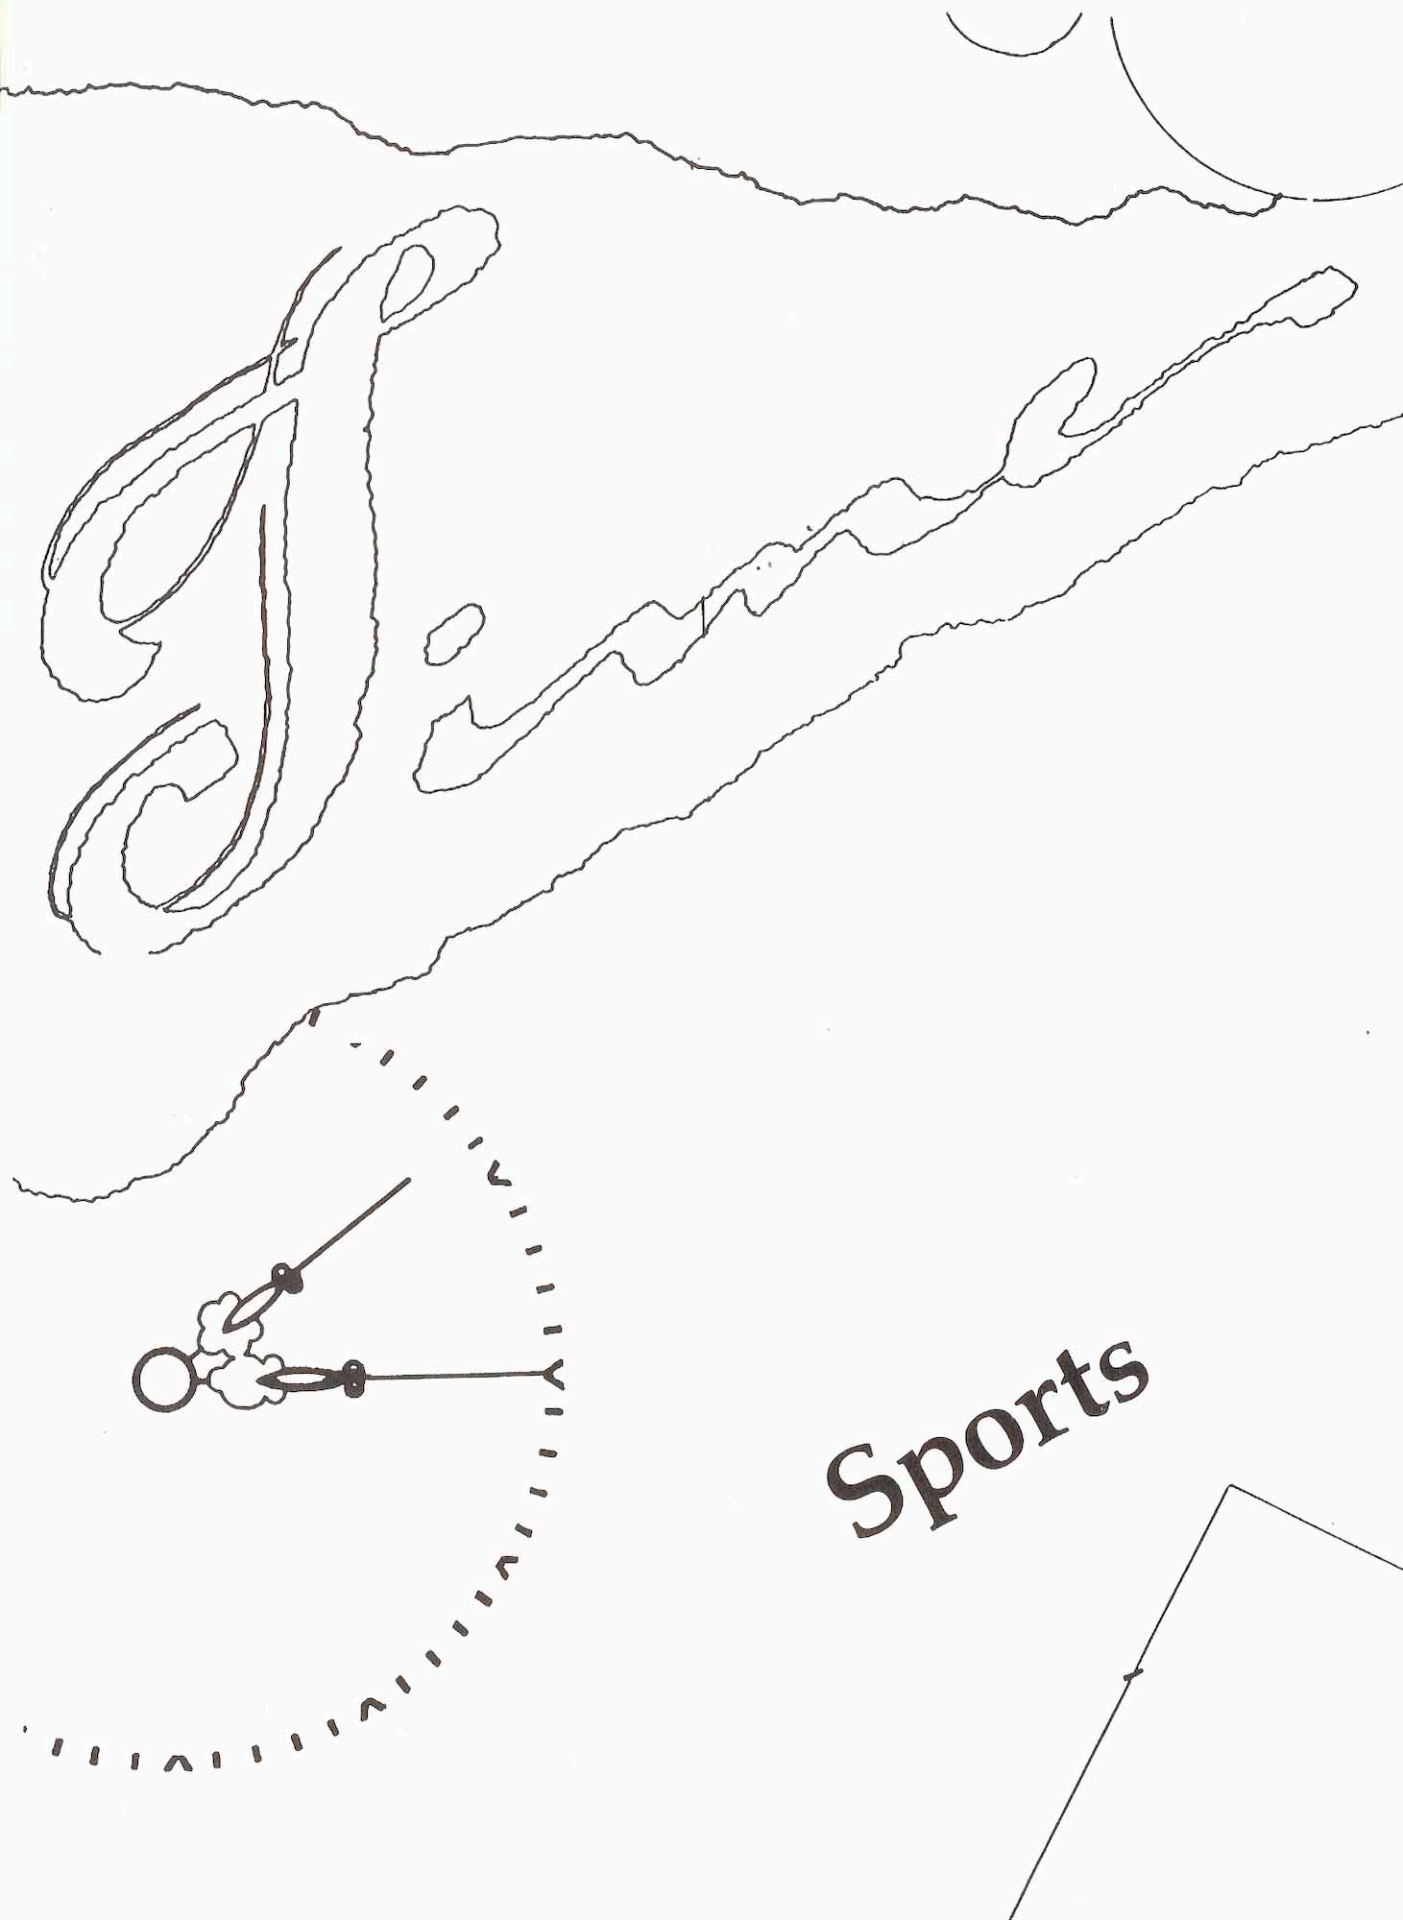

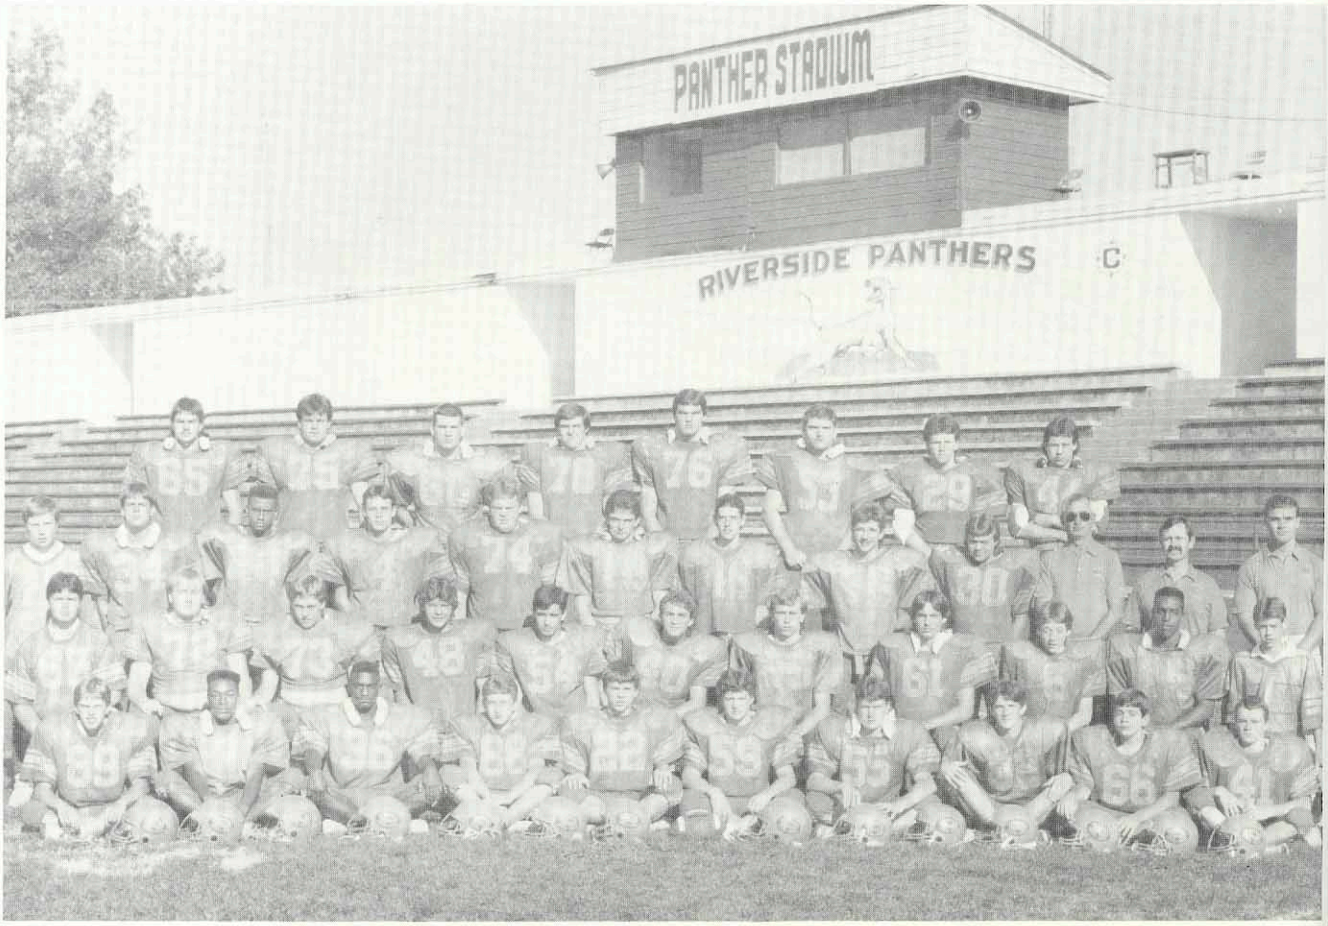

Boys' And Girls' State

American Legion Boys' State and Volunteer Girls' State are educational experiences for delegates from high schools across the state. They participate in many simulations of the operation of our state government.

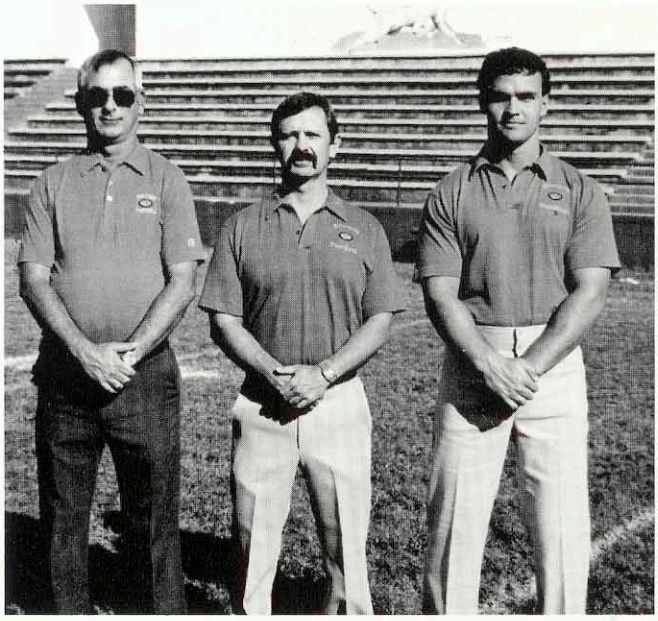

To be a Boys' or Girls' State delegate is an honor. Only three rising seniors from RHS were selected to attend. Michael Larkins and Kris Moore attended Boys' State at Tennessee Tech. Even though the strict routine was hard at times, it was all worth it. Psyanita Brasher was the RHS delegate to Girls' State at MTSU, where she was elected city judge of Sevier County and elected to the House of Representatives. She also placed in the track meet.

Psyanita, Michael, and Kris agree that their knowledge attained of politics and Tennessee government is very valuable.

Last Memories — Class of '90

Here we sit all in a row,
Thinking of the time that we must go.
As our name is called we approach the stage,
Some we've known since kindergarten — some since the ninth grade.
Some say they will keep in touch,
For friends to them mean so much.
While others will go and do their own thing,
For their life new friends will bring.
As we sit here with tears in our eyes,
We try not to cry, although it hurts inside.
We must not think that this is the end,
But think a brighter life is to begin.
